Jacob MacKinnon

Valedictorian, Old Colony Regional Vocational-Technical High School

I want to start by saying welcome. Welcome to the families and friends that are here today, welcome to the Old Colony community and staff, and most importantly - welcome to the class of 2023! We all stuck together through adversity and challenge, and we have reached the end of our high school careers. The class of 2023 is the first class on the planet to complete all four years of high school during a global pandemic. I am honored to deliver the Valediction.

For those of you that may not know me, my name is Jacob Mackinnon, I went to high school with you ... if you've said hi to me in the hallway and I didn't respond it wasn't because I didn't want to, it's because I didn't hear you or see you because, well, I'm deaf.

I was born with Usher Syndrome, which is the leading cause of deaf-blindness and vestibular impairment. It might not be very apparent, but I am profoundly deaf - I have to use specific hearing devices known as Cochlear Implants to access sound and communicate verbally. They allow hearing in a limited range but don't discern which direction the sound is coming from. I also have progressive vision loss with my peripheral vision being severely reduced, and my night or low-light vision being nullified. Imagine looking at your daily life through two paper-towel tubes, that is how I see. Combine this with an impaired sense of balance, and you have a student who has to utilize so much energy just to physically navigate the school building, let alone partake in classes. On most days, it's exhausting, but I never let that stop me or define me.

As I stand here on the podium today, I want to tell everyone that no matter the circumstance, no matter your "ability," you can succeed. So even if you feel like you're held back by some factor, you can still reach your goals with effort, determination and support. As you sit here today, take a look around you. Thank your support people with every chance you can. You aren't finished yet. One of my biggest supporters is my older brother Brandon, and I'd like for him to know how much that means to me.

My fellow classmates, being here is proof of the perseverance demonstrated by the Class of 2023. Even during the most trying times of Covid, we pushed forward. Our class overcame so much adversity. Many of you faced heavy obstacles along your journey not only to graduate, but in life. Whether it was having to learn remotely or having to keep up with schoolwork while being part of extracurricular activities, or holding down jobs, or helping families, here you sit today.

As our time together comes to a close, take this time to commemorate the memories and accomplishments we've made up to this point. You will pull out our yearbook in future years and reflect on the Covid days, but you will also see all the wonderful happenings. We all know too well that the last four years were filled with many challenges, from the school computers being hacked, to remote and hybrid learning and to missed social events. I'm sure many of my classmates can relate that being at home made it awfully tempting to pursue activities besides schoolwork.

I would like to take this opportunity to give a shout-out to the class president, Chaz Aguiar. Our class would not have been as successful without his leadership. Not only is he the class president, he is also a member of the Student Advisory Committee, the National Honor Society and is a SkillsUSA officer. Chaz, I look forward to hearing of your successes in the future - and I apologize for not accepting your Robotics invitation, I simply couldn't make it work at the time.

I also want to give a shout-out to the Computer Science department. The teachers allowed me to pursue my interests related to Computer Science beyond the school curriculum. I leave the responsibility of maintaining my final project, a tool crib for the Carpentry shop to track tools in and out, in your shop's hands. Many of you also will leave projects and accomplishments that incoming students will build upon.

A former teacher once - no, on multiple occasions - would say the following: "Build a bridge, you future rocket engineers of America!" Quick show of hands, how many of you heard that during your time here? I believe all of you will build your own "bridges," using the skills and experiences you've gathered over the years here at Old Colony.

I understand that this is also a somber moment for us, for after this ceremony today, we will no longer be high school students. I'm sure most of you are familiar with the story of Helen Keller. Left deaf and blind following an illness at 19 months old, she went on to become an author and advocate for the deaf-blind. She was the first deaf-blind individual to attend and graduate college. I find her following words encouraging for me. "Often we look so long at the closed door that we do not see the one that has been opened for us." - Helen Keller

As you move on from your memories, closed doors, of Old Colony, focus on new doors opening from this moment forward, and use them to make a positive change, big or small, in the world. Be inclusive, be kind, be happy, and bring the best of humanity with you. There is so much work yet to be done.

In closing, I would like to leave you with this. ... Your success will not be measured by salary, job titles, or how many views you have on your latest social media post; your success will be measured by how you treat others. I challenge you, as you venture out into the world, to treat others with kindness, to take time to talk with those who are different, to include those who are different and to accept those who are different. There are lots of people in the world who are different ... different but not less. Even those who are different can dance at the prom.

With that being said, congratulations to the Class of 2023! Be proud of making it this far, and I wish you success in navigating your future endeavors!

I do have one parting request - whoever makes the first million, would you please donate to Old Colony a cell tower? Thank you.

marking the end of a chapter in our lives, as we, in Mr. Devoll's words, "Cross the finish line together."

When I heard I would be giving this speech today, many questions popped into my head. How long should it be, what should it be about and much more. Given the absolutely zero guidelines, I began to wonder what would best reflect the class and our work throughout the past four years. And more importantly, how was I supposed to write a speech that was relatable and interesting to all, and ideally contained a greater message? After all, I'm just another 18-year-old with comparatively few life experiences.

However, a moment of realization came, thinking back on all of the years of high school, wondering what topic is worthy of a speech. I found that the best topic isn't even a topic, but yet a recap of memories and experiences from the past four years.

I often have found myself looking back on these glorious yet strange years with more questions than answers. There have been some strange moments, whether it be a warning against TikTok challenges including "deck the halls and show your ... December" (I'll let everyone infer what that was), or the announcements over the intercom to stop stealing the soap dispensers, we've witnessed it all. And that's not even touching on COVID. I'm sure we all vaguely remember the hybrid zoom meetings, and of course, for those of us who had him, Mr. White and his wild sleep schedule, which was roughly 2:00 am to 10:00 am, even though I'm sure he'll correct me later.

Looking back, it's hard to believe that this all happened in such a short amount of time, and it has made me appreciate how the entire class has grown and changed, thriving through what some would call the challenge of zoom meetings (even though I personally loved hybrid school), surviving a sudden coursework jump into a difficult junior year and the college application process.

Thus, I have realized it is important to cherish the memories we've made and to take advantage of every opportunity in front of us, whether it be socially or academically. After all, we only have one shot at this. With this, I would like to sincerely congratulate everyone in the class and wish all of you the best of luck in your future endeavors, whether it be college, work, learning a trade or anything else.

Finally, I'd like to thank all who have helped us get to

Co-Head of School, Tabor Academy

Good morning, friends and family, faculty and staff, and especially my fellow classmates of the graduating class of 2023! Congratulations! We have finally made it. I hope that you take some time after today to truly reflect on all of the hard work that you have put in to make it to this moment, and I hope that you will be proud of yourself for all that you have accomplished.

One thousand, three hundred and sixty-seven days ago, we arrived here as new freshmen, ready to embark on a world of new opportunities. Well, 1,003 days if you were a new sophomore, and 632 days if you came to Tabor as a new junior, but nevertheless you got her somehow! Many of you may remember our first field trip as a class to Silvershell Beach. Or the time we made history as the first freshman class to be so dedicated to their academics that we had to have mandatory study hall in the Acky for our first trimester of high school. These are all things that were indicative of the beginning of our Tabor journeys. They were some of the first steps in our staircase.

At Tabor, there are more staircases than I can count. My least favorite is the staircase in Hoyt that leads to the choral room. It is about three sets of never-ending stairs, and every single week for four years, I have walked up them as I talked with friends, hopped them as I attempted to cut my walking time, and I've even run up them (on the extremely rare occasion that I was late because I was still putting on mascara in my room at 8:30.) Sorry, Dr. Zhou! Besides the fact that these stairs constantly reminded me that I was severely out of shape, they became a symbolic metaphor for the challenges of an uphill battle.

When I think about this staircase, I am reminded of the voyage that we have taken as a class to make it to the top. As the days grew shorter and the homework assignments grew longer, we stepped into our identities. We stepped into leadership roles and became navigators, global partners and proctors to help our younger peers navigate Tabor life. We stepped into lead roles in musicals and dramas on the Hoyt stage and in the black box. We stepped into college decision-making and thinking about what we would do in life after Tabor. We have even stepped into leadership on the field as we've become team captains and have even assisted coaches! Well, y'all not me, not me!

However, amid all these joyful things we've also stepped into hard times — trials and tribulations. We stepped into no's where we were expecting a yes and into brick walls where there should've been open fields. Some of us gained injuries during the midst of our dedication to athletics. Some of us were rejected from schools that we believed were our dreams. Many of us may have lost loved ones along this journey who we thought we would be able to love and cherish forever. And all of us can attest to the fact that at times these past four years have been emotionally, physically and mentally draining.

At the risk of sounding cliché, these obstacles did not hinder our success, but they only made us stronger and prepared us for the world to come. (Because, guys, I heard it's crazy out there; we have to pay bills and wash dishes and ugh!) But seriously, they've taught us resilience, perseverance and grit. All of the skills necessary to navigate the wonders of life.

So now, it is time for us to explore this new world and its new levels and heights. For years we have stepped into a lane that has already been prepared for us, a track that has already been run. We've been told countless times at Tabor that Seawolves show up, well now it's time for Seawolves to step up! What will you step up to next? How will you become a trendsetter or a role model? How will you inspire your younger siblings and cousins after you? Will you be the first person in your family to ever attend and graduate college? Will you not go to college and spend your time traveling the world to depend on and expand your knowledge of the people and places around you? Whatever you do, you are in charge of your destiny. As Hennely so graciously said in her chapel speech this year, "Pick up the pen and write your story." Your life is yours to live, so live it.

So even though I am out of breath every time I walk into my madrigals class, I take pride in knowing that I made it to the top. We are at the top. We've weathered storms and glared at rainbows, all while climbing the stairs to the top. Now that we are here, we stand confident, fearless, and prepared, looking on to the next staircase, knowing that we will be able to conquer each test it throws our way.

Thank you and congratulations to the Tabor Academy, Class of 2023!

Some of us are spicy pickles, with attitude and flare that define themselves, like Aliyah. Others are gherkins, smaller, yet bold and a bit fancy, like Tom. There're even sweet pickles, made with sugar and love, mellow and kind, like Paige. We are all pickles, and pickles are awesome.

To create pickles, fresh cucumbers must be placed in a jar with a brine and other add-ins, such as spices. Dill, mustard seed, black pepper, red pepper, cloves, ginger and sugar can all be used to add flavor and variety. For at least two weeks, each cucumber sits in a cool, dry, place, sealed away in barrels. Through chemical reactions, the sugars in the cucumbers, glucose and fructose, are converted into acids, creating the distinct bitterness of a good pickle. The longer the cukes sit soaking, the more acidic each become, aging like fine wine. A pickle is good because it suffered. Vinegar and salt have made them distinct -- in a pleasing way.

No matter what, the pickles after storage, in my opinion, always come out better than how they started. In our years at Tabor, it seems each of us have been pickled ourselves. Perhaps in our masks, we were sealed away hermetically in a jar, keeping ourselves preserved from one another. Maybe it was closing ourselves in our rooms, taking class online, fermenting from sitting inside for so long. Though I haven't gone through this process alone. I have pickled along with all of you, my classmates, on our journey through Tabor. Within the "Tabor bubble" itself, like a giant vat of pickles, we shared common experiences while maturing alongside one another. For me, it was the experiences and people I met through my time at Tabor that created a chemical reaction on myself, forming me from a mundane, all-knowing eighth grader who I was not proud to be, to an accomplished, handsome, respectable man I am today. However, the process and effects of pickling, for food or in terms of personal growth, is not new.

Since 2030 BC, pickling has been used to preserve fruits and vegetables. For the conquistadors, it was a simple, safe option of food storage crossing the Atlantic, pickling produce in barrels of saltwater. In my family, pickling was a way to save money. Even in the 20th century, pickling is a part of my family's story. With 14 kids and a dairy farm to run, canning and pickling was a staple chore in the Yandow family, ensuring food security for the year ahead. Not only has pickling been a necessity, but also a celebration of making a little go a long way. With only a limited amount of time at Tabor, it has been necessary to take advantage of every lesson, every gathering, every interaction with each other, to now, celebrate making the most of what we had together.

Like the spear on the side of a sandwich or slices on a burger, a pickle adds the boldness and funk to a dish,

Classical Gem Returns for 25th

Buzzards Bay Musicfest

By Jeffrey D. Wagner

Nicole Klein, a Mattapoisett business owner, said she grew up in the area as a musician. She says she initially did not know about the concert series to descend on Marion next month. Now she is a board member of the Buzzards Bay Musicfest about to celebrate its 25th season with five performances, starting on Wednesday, July 12 and culminating Sunday, July 16.

"I grew up as a musician locally and had no real idea about this series and what a great thing it is," said Klein. "What is really great about it is it's a charitable organization and funded by community donations."

Back after taking a few seasons off due to COVID-19, the BBMF has a goal to spread the word. Another mission is to get more young people involved.

On July 12 at 2:30 pm at Tabor Academy's Fireman

Performing Arts Center, there will be a rehearsal for young people. Music hopefuls might get an opportunity to perform with some of the world-class musicians.

"We want more local people to realize this is something they can take part in and enjoy," Klein said.

The Town of Marion is one of the few places where world-class musicians come and play for free for a week.

"Since its founding, the BBMF has been dedicated to bringing world-class music to Marion and the surrounding communities. Thanks to the generosity of our donors, concerts have always been offered free of charge," according to a written release. "Through partnerships with the Marion Art Center and Tabor Academy, the BBMF has become a cultural cornerstone of the town and contributes

How does chiropractic care help seniors?

Researchers for Topics in Clinical Chiropractic found that for seniors age 75 and over, "Chiropractic users were less likely to have been hospitalized, less likely to have used a nursing home, more likely to report a better health status, more likely to exercise vigorously, and more likely to be mobile in the community. In addition, they were less likely to use prescription drugs."

Further supporting this improvement in quality of life, a study published in the Journal of Manipulative and Physiological Therapeutics found that Medicare patients who had regular chiropractic care "reported making only half the annual number of visits to medical providers compared with the national average for people age 65 years and over."

Often seniors are told that their pain is due to arthritis or aging, and that there isn't much that can be done. Often, chiropractic care can help.

to the cultural enrichment of the community, connects people through the arts and enhances the quality of life for Marion and the surrounding area. Performances have captivated audiences and garnered acclaim."

Word of mouth and youth involvement might be on the rise this year thanks to Tabor Academy, which has donated its hall for the concerts this year.

All concerts are free and everything is donated.

"It's a lot of community involvement coming together," Klein said.

Members of the community even house musicians during their stay.

"This is a momentous year for us, and we're thrilled to be celebrating our 25th season," said Trudy Kingery, BBMF's founder and honorary chairperson, in a written release. "We're looking forward to bringing our audiences the very best in classical music, and we can't wait to share our 'Season of Celebration.'"

Returning conductor Antony Walker will kick off the concert series on Wednesday, July 12, by waving his baton and guiding an orchestra. Other highlights of the five performances scheduled during the week include chamber music performances on Thursday, July 13, and on Saturday, July 15. The BBMF Swing Band will swing into action on Friday, July 14, and a second chamber orchestra concert is scheduled on Sunday, July 16.

The Sunday concert will be at 2:00 pm. All other concerts are set in the evening at 8:00 pm.

A Dream ... And A Star to Steer Her

By Dick Morgado

When I was a kid, I climbed the old maple tree in our front yard and sat in its high branches dreaming I was on a whaling ship sailing the seven seas seeking the great white one. Every kid has a dream.

Maybe Captain Ahab was not in your dream. Maybe your dream was to be an astronaut, the first woman on the moon, or to hit the winning run in the World Series, or win a million bucks in the lottery, or parachute from an airplane. Maybe you dreamed of being President of the United States ... eh, maybe not. You start a bucket list, but as time goes by it seems as though it was written in invisible ink, your dreams vanish, and the real world takes the wind out of your sails.

There is one man whose dream has not evaporated. He dreamed of something big and set out to fulfill it. He dreamed of sailing around the world, but not in just any sailboat. Though he had never sailed before, he set out on an adventure few would start, much less complete. He would build his own boat ... a big one. He cut down trees on the farm where three generations of his family worked, trees that he once climbed as a boy and began building his dream.

He was an adventurer from the start. He has traveled the world on foot, on skis and snowshoes, rock climbed, explored underground caves, canoed whitewater rapids and kayaked on the high seas. He has worked as a roofer and at a climbing gym and earned a master's degree but, as he has said, he found that "the romantic notion" of building a sailboat that could take him "wherever the wind takes me" was very alluring.

Soon Steve Denette's ultimate dream will become a reality beginning right here in Mattapoisett. An estimated 2,000-plus people will be descending on our little village to witness his dream, the Arabella, slide down our boat ramp and begin an adventure that 160,000 people around the world have been following on YouTube or reading about or hearing about on television.

After devouring books on wood boat building and with the help of friends, sailing aficionados ... amateur and expert ... skilled sailors, volunteers and pretty much the whole community of Granby, his landlocked hometown in western Massachusetts, Steve will soon set sail on the next phase of his adventure.

Why Mattapoisett, you may ask? Well, according to Annie B., a multitasking seafarer and communicator of the project, after plans to launch at Mystic Seaport fell through, they needed a port that could accommodate the many aspects of a boat launch and the many people expected to attend. Brownell Boats transported the yacht Victoria, which the project would decommission and use for parts, to Granby.

Thus, familiar with Mattapoisett and a perusal on Google Earth, our historic former ship building harbor seemed to be a perfect fit. Soon a friendly welcome from the harbormaster and positive interactions with the town administration, Mattapoisett was just the ticket.

Like the whaler in my youthful dream, the high seas beckon. On June 17, Steve Denette's dream will launch. The name Arabella is derived from the Latin orabilis, which means "answered prayers." If all goes well, Steve's and all those dreamers with him will begin the "magical experience" he says he's dreamed of. All he needs is a star to steer her by.

Bon Voyage.

Foxglove A Pretty Poison

By George B. Emmons

Foxgloves are the most elegant flowers you can choose to decorate your garden. They are also the easiest to grow as they begin by developing a floral roseate arrangement at ground level and then grow upwards taller into double lipped petals. The developing statuesque petals can soon be plain white or bright yellow or a deep sprinkling of a rust shade. Once the hardy biennials are planted, they can come back every year and then five more after that.

As in my illustration, all the color usually attracts a living variety of hummingbirds, monarch butterflies, bumble bees, and double-winged damselflies. All are shown in my drawing, getting into the picture. In order to stimulate flowers already planted, a compound of Foxglove leaves called digitalis and ground up together will activate the heart muscle of each plant to grow faster and more decoratively.

Don't be surprised if a slightly different appearance of seedlings may suddenly pop up out of the ground, and you may wish to transplant them elsewhere into a sunnier section of your garden where they may take off, reproduce and last for many more years to your complete astonishment. By pollinating beautiful hybrids, you may be glad to call yourself a green thumb gardener from your first attempt.

The origin of the name of Foxglove for flowers was taken from an English translation meaning that foxes really wore these flowers on their paws to silence their movements as they slyly hunted their prey. The woody hillsides where foxes made their dens would be covered with flowers under the name of "witch's glove" in reference to the poison of the plant itself. Foxgloves are actually deadly for dogs and other animals as well as human beings.

However, neither people nor animals have any good reason to eat them. It may be said that Foxgloves can be labeled as deer resistant around your country cottage property.

To purchase Foxglove flowers, they can be bought by mail order or in large pot containers in retail flower garden shops. However, it will be to your benefit to act without further delay after reading my detailed concept of a Foxglove Party before it is too late to take advantage of the spring growing season.

Time Limit for Public Comment Debated

Marion Select Board

By Mick Colageo

There was disagreement among the members of the Marion Select Board as to the town's Public Comment Policy.

A Draft Second Read was before the board during Tuesday night's public meeting, the purpose to allow the board to observe the changes made with recommendation allowing the chairman to maximize discussion time while maintaining control over potentially contentious arguments. As Town Administrator Geoff Gorman explained to the board, a policy would prevent the hijacking of time.

Select Board Chairman Toby Burr said he feels uncomfortable limiting the amount of time that the public can speak about an issue. He floated an alternative scenario in which no less than 10 minutes would be allocated and possibly more as the discretion of the chairman.

Board member Norm Hills, who has served multiple terms as chairman of the Select Board, Planning Board and other adjudicating boards, identified the problem of speakers "getting to the point."

Member Randy Parker agreed with Burr, saying that the chair should control the committee and give some additional time if they need it.

"We've had some pretty difficult meetings in the last 10 years and managed to get through them. I think we should look through this one more time," said Parker.

Gorman noted that the state has seen two litigations over the last five years following attempts to calm a meeting amidst foul language and calling people by name. He said that in one recent case, a citizen was removed from a public meeting, sued and won the case.

"If you do not policy drive," warned Gorman, the board leaves itself open to a lack of control. "Unfortunately, there are people out there that dictate boards like this. ... This whole purpose is to protect the board and the town, and I will continue to seek the language and verbiage to make that happen."

Parker said he would like more time, and the matter was tabled.

The Marion Harbormaster Department officially became part of the Police Department after its reorganization was approved by the Select Board.

As the first of 21 action items on the June 6 agenda, Gorman summarized the matter emanating from former Governor Baker's 2020 police reform requiring recertification and training of all police personnel, including harbormasters who are charged with duties, including the powers of arrest and the use of escalated force. The reorganization means all Harbormaster Department personnel will report to the Chief of Police.

In separate votes, the Select Board approved the appointments of Damian Amaral and Tyler Paquette as full-time Police officers, per Chief of Police Richard Nighelli's requests, effective May 29. The officers' probationary periods were completed.

The board voted to approve the appointment of Danielle Engwert from alternate to full member of the Zoning Board of Appeals. Engwert received enthusiastic support from ZBA Chairperson Cynthia Callow, who recruited Engwert. "I'm very proud of where she's come from," said Callow. The opening came with the resignation of Dr. Ed Hoffer.

James Stewart is now an associate member of the Marine Resources Commission after his appointment was approved. "The harbor's a key part of the town, and I'd like to do my part to keep it the way it is and keep it in good shape," said Stewart, who lived in Marion from 1987 to 1993, moved to Boston and then back in 2006.

Along with many scheduled staff reappointments, the board approved the designation of Gorman as the town's Interim Chief Procurement Officer (CPO) effective March 1. Gorman will become eligible to lose the interim tag when he completes his MCPPO certification currently in process.

The board approved Mattapoisett River Valley Water District Conservation restrictions at Red Brick Farm East (Wolf Island Road, Mattapoisett) and Red Brick Farm West (Long Plain Road, Mattapoisett); both are part of aquifer water protection for the Tri-Towns.

The board approved the following road closures to accommodate the Marion 5k Road Race on Saturday, June 24. The race begins at 9:00 am and is expected to travel down Front Street, crossing Ryder Lane from 9:00 am to 9:10 am, Spring Street through 9:20 am, Main Street (9:05-9:25 am), Pleasant Street (9:05-9:35 am), Holmes Street (9:08-9:45 am), Water Street (9:10-9:50 am), Vine Street (9:10-10:00 am) and finally Front Street (9:12-10:15 am.) The race is sponsored by the Marion Recreation Department.

The board approved the closure of Main Street from School to Front Street for the First Congregational Church of Marion's Annual Summer Street Fair on Saturday, July 29, from 9:00 am to 2:00 pm subject to Fire and Police chiefs' approvals.

Overflow parking for approximately 15 cars on Planting Island Road facing Point Road for a July 29 wedding was approved from 2:00 pm to 10:00 pm.

A mobile-home permit for 507 Delano Road was approved for two more weeks.

Water/Sewer commitments of $3,536.48 (final readings May 24) and of $678.23 (final readings May 31) were approved.

Other approvals included a letter of support to Eversource regarding the Southeastern Massachusetts Clean Grid Concept, the Department of Public Works' request on annual water restrictions from June 15 to September 15, acceptance of the Marion Housing Production Plan of 2022 and approval of the Open Space & Recreation Plan.

A discussion about a possible Cemetery Commission fee increase was tabled.

In his Town Administrator's Report, Gorman publicly thanked all volunteers involved in Marion's Memorial Day Remembrance exercises. "It really was one of the best events I've attended," said Gorman.

Gorman said the Example Agenda included in the board members' meeting packet was not intended for a vote on Tuesday but only review until a later date. He said the tightening of meeting agendas, including the elimination of placeholder items is driven by the state's Open Meeting Law.

Box Turtle Gains Protection

Rochester Select Board

By Jeffrey D. Wagner

Personnel and preservation were themes of Monday night's Select Board meeting.

The board met with Police Chief Robert Small, who recommended appointing full-time officer Amin Lakhal. Small mentioned that Lakhal, a South Middleboro native, will graduate soon from the police academy and has all required training.

The Select Board unanimously appointed Lakhal.

The board reported vacancies on the Conservation and Agricultural commissions, respectively, as well as the Historical Commission Historic District Commission and the Soil Conservation Board.

Select Board members met with Allen Decker, director of Land Protection for the Buzzards Bay Coalition, as well as Matt Monteiro, president of the town's Land Trust.

The board approved two conservation projects, both of which are habitat to the rare box turtle.

The first project will protect 241 acres that stretch from Acushnet through Mattapoisett and around 13 acres in Rochester. The land will cut through an area of town known as Red Brook Farm, according to Decker, who said Mattapoisett is using the land on its property to protect an aquifer for a possible drinking water source in the future.

Decker said Mattapoisett is looking at four potential areas to drill wells, if needed in the future. "There really is no long-term change (for Rochester)," Decker told Select Board members.

The board approved the restriction of a similar property for the purpose of protection and preservation – the Longplain Forest.

In other town business, the Select Board plans on researching how other communities are conducting annual liquor – a new farmer winery pouring license. Right now, the price is around $450, and one business owner challenged it. Select Board members agreed that the price appears high and plan on researching how other communities handle the price. The board will revisit the issue at the June 21 meeting.

The meeting was the first with new board member Adam Murphy, who won a seat during the recent Town Election.

The next meeting of the Rochester Select Board is scheduled for Wednesday, June 21, at 6:00 pm at Town Hall.

Ground Solar Cannot Top 6 Feet

Marion Zoning Board of Appeals

By Mick Colageo

Applicants Terry Buckley and Gail Cullen were denied in their attempt to gain approval for a ground-mounted solar array reaching up to 10 feet high at their 6 Derby Lane home.

Their request for a variance at the Marion Zoning Board of Appeals' May 25 public meeting was deliberated and rejected with votes from members Margie Baldwin, Dana Nilson, Will Tifft and Chairperson Cynthia Callow. Associate member Danielle Engwert's was the lone dissenting vote in a 4-1 decision.

Theoretically, a variance could have been granted pursuant to Section 230-2.2 of the Zoning Bylaws had the following four conditions been met as laid out by Callow prior to the public hearing: owing to circumstances relating to soil conditions, shape or topography of land or structures, affecting those land or structures but generally not affecting the zone in which the project is located; that enforcement would result in substantial hardship financial or otherwise; that desirable relief may be granted without substantial detriment to the public good; and without nullifying from the intent or purpose of the ordinance or bylaw.

In presenting the case remotely via Zoom, the applicant's representative, Christina D'Alessandro, project manager at SunVolt Solar, told the board that the 10-foot height is recommended for optimum solar production. A change to 6 feet, she said, would cause between 10% and 20% decrease in solar production over the next 10 years.

Nilson sought a more thorough explanation of the science calling for 10 feet in height rather than 6 feet. D'Alessandro explained that the applicant's property is vulnerable to flooding.

The property owner told the board that the greenhouse at the site has not been flooded but that water congregates from surrounding properties especially in early spring. Later in the meeting, she would show board members photos of her yard.

After clarifying that the solar array is planned for ground approximating the same grade as the land where the greenhouse sits, Nilson said he is baffled by the need for 4 feet of flood protection. The issue of flooding gave way to the challenge of tree obstruction.

Building Commissioner Bob Grillo, in attendance at the meeting, said he has not permitted a ground-mounted solar project since his hire in Marion, but he said the project being vetted on May 25 was among five that he had received phone calls to discuss variances for height.

"So I think that the 6 feet is an issue because none of the other ones got built," he said. "The same specific question was posed: 'Can we go higher than 6 feet?' And I said it would require a variance."

Baldwin said there are many ground-mounted installations in town built only to the 6-foot maximum. "It makes me a little ill at ease to just say, 'You need more solar so raise it?'"

"If there's a problem with the bylaw, that's a separate issue," said Nilson.

"I don't think that's for us to decide," said Baldwin, who asked if the array could be placed in the middle of the lot to alleviate angular obstructions from the sun. D'Alessandro said that would not solve the problem.

Tiftt said, "I don't think it's our place, the Zoning Board of Appeals, to overturn what the town has voted on and what the advisory of the laws are there to do, particularly if this looks like the first of what is going to be an onslaught. The precedence here really worries me. We are in effect taking on a role that is not our role in this case."

Callow countered that point by rhetorically asking why have a ZBA.

ZBA associate member Tucker Burr, whose vote would not be needed on this case, said the solar bylaw, revised in 2021, was "not super well written." Nonetheless, he insisted that the fact the 6-foot maximum was voted by two-thirds majority at Town Meeting is the only relevant fact for the application of the bylaw. Otherwise, he asserted, the dissenting voters could join the ZBA and nullify that vote.

Engwert said the board could theoretically override the bylaw by granting a variance. She suggested the board concentrate on the four requirements for the variance sought.

The applicant noted that the neighbors expressed no issues with the plan, but the membership at large felt that the case for a variance was not compelling.

The next meeting of the Marion Zoning Board of Appeals was not announced at adjournment.

Village Wants Surety Returned

Mattapoisett Planning Board

By Marilou Newell

During the June 5 meeting of the Mattapoisett Planning Board, Peter Demakis of the Village at Mattapoisett spoke on behalf of the owners requesting the return of a $50,000 surety held by the town for some 20 years. Demakis said that in all the years that sum had been set aside for emergency stormwater-system repairs, "... nothing has happened."

Demakis said that the condominium association has maintained the property from the grounds to the roof without oversight; and therefore, since the stormwater system has not failed, why was it necessary for the town to hang onto "... our money?" he asked. "We need to understand why."

Chairman Tom Tucker said in a follow-up that the $50,000 surety was always to remain in place in the event of a catastrophic blowout of the detention pond situated above the Pepperbush neighborhood. He said an agreement with the developer was that the surety would be paid before the first unit was sold. However, the developer only came up with $20,000, leaving it up to others to come up with the rest.

But Demakis stressed that the detention pond rarely holds any water, is primarily dry and therefore not a threat to other properties. Tucker said that the surety was to have been held into perpetuity to protect others. Demakis kept circling back to his main point that the town doesn't need to hold the association's money because they were on top of all areas of maintenance.

Demakis asked the Planning Board to make a site visit to the complex to see for themselves the condition of the basin. Tucker agreed that the members would individually visit the property and tabled the matter to a future meeting.

In other business, a request for a Form A, Approval Not Required for property owned by Jeffrey Dunn located on Angelica Avenue and further described as Map 2, lots 159, 160, 169 and a portion of 168 was approved.

Trees needing removal due to poor condition was discussed. Suspect trees on Depot Street, Dexter Lane and Church Street will be tagged, and public meetings will be held to discuss the matter and determine the future of the trees.

This was the first meeting of the board's newest member, William Wennerberg, who attended, bringing the board up to four members. Wennerberg shared in a follow-up that he was on the Plymouth Planning Board and Conservation Commission for eight years and has been a professional land manager and developer for 30 years.

The next meeting of the Mattapoisett Planning Board was not scheduled upon adjournment.

New Board Approves Pier Extension

Marion Planning Board

By Mick Colageo

The first public hearing of the newly reorganized Marion Planning Board was a challenging one for engineer Dave Davignon, whose explanations satisfied six of seven members, green-lighting a special permit for a dock extension planned by applicants James and Joyce Patten at 83 Holly Road.

The board, chaired by Tucker Burr, heard on Monday night from Davignon (of Schneider, Davignon & Leone, Inc.) on a project that picks up where one left off 35 years ago.

As Davignon outlined, the initial phase of the project was permitted to build a boardwalk over land, since 1988 leaving a ramp to the property. Phase 2, he said, is to extend the pier over water at the same elevation so that the Pattens can install a float and dock their boat and dinghy.

Prior vetting of the new project in the Conservation Commission and state and federal jurisdictions resulted in a shortening of the planned dock by 20 feet from an initially proposed 80 feet, according to Davignon. The existing boardwalk is wider than the maximum-allowed 4 feet, so a 60x4-foot extension is proposed with a "standard" gangway to a 10x20-foot float.

Davignon listed the state Division of Marine Fisheries, Natural Heritage and the Harbormaster Department (navigation and shellfish issues) as being on board with the revised plan.

New member W. Dale Jones, who lives nearby the site, said its sounds like a good project to him. But member Eileen Marum scrutinized the project heavily, citing several ecological issues alluded to in a report filed by Amanda Davis, an environmentalist with the Division of Marine Fisheries.

Furthermore, Marum cited the federal Clean Water Act, noting that every effort should be made to avoid impact on eel grass. She also sought facts on the pilings for the project, noting the danger of creosote (a wood preservative pesticide) for shellfish.

"What we have here is a cumulative impact," said Marum, identifying the area as sensitive habitat according to Davis' letter, and openly disagreed with the proposal as a worthwhile project.

Burr asked Davignon if the Conservation Commission commented on Davis' letter. "I have tremendous respect for the board and Jeff (Doubrava) and Shaun (Walsh)," he said.

Allowed to respond, Davignon said that Creasote is no longer allowed and there was no eel grass in the area of the proposed work. He also said that the saltmarsh will not be disturbed because it lies entirely under the prior phase of work back in 1988.

Davignon stated that the DMF reviews project three times and that "the Conservation Commission in this town takes them very seriously," noting his experience with the Marion commission.

He did note that due to other project vetting, access will be changed from the existing ramp to stairs on one side and possibly a ladder on the other after comment from the Army Corps of Engineers.

While Marum asserted that the Planning Board was being asked to grant a permit with incomplete information, member (and new vice chairman) Andrew Daniel disagreed, noting his disappointment in the report from the state Department of Environmental Protection.

"I feel very much like it's any dock," he said, satisfied with what he had heard about the plan to move shellfish. "I wish we had another comment from the Harbormaster on the waterway," regarding boats traversing the area. "Looks like it's not even the longest dock out there (into Wings Cove.)"

"This dock, I don't believe, will go any further (out) than the other docks," said Jones.

Member Alanna Nelson asked about lighting. Davignon said there is no electricity at the site and that any lighting would have to be based on solar power. Nelson also questioned the necessity of a 10x20-foot float as opposed to 8x16. Davignon said 10x20 is the industry standard and has seen larger.

Member Jon Henry noted how impressed he was with Marum's diligent research and knowledge, adding that building materials have changed dramatically. He cited the use of PVC and stainless steel as alternatives in pilings.

"My comfort level is pretty high with the research," he said, complimenting Marum on her research. "Your research has turned up and it's good, I'm not knocking it ... The Army Corps of Engineers is considered the construction company of Congress."

Henry said he would like more information on Daniel's navigational question, but Daniel said he was okay moving the project forward without further explanation on the navigation. "There are other levels of review going on here," said Nelson.

Marum voted against closing the public hearing.

After Daniel moved to approve the special permit, noting it had been reviewed by Town Counsel, Nelson suggested the permit raise the pier's height from 24 inches to 30 to match DMF's suggestion (Davignon said, while 24 inches is the norm, the project's design actually calls for 30 inches.) It's part of the design.

Nelson also suggested a condition that refueling would not be allowed at the construction site (Davignon said all the work would be done out on a barge, there would be no landward activity.) Daniel noted that state guidelines are already in place. Burr said he does not want to impose a limit on refueling, and Daniel agreed.

Nelson's first condition was included in the decision that Town Planner Doug Guey-Lee will write. Marum's was the lone dissenting vote.

Monday's was the first official meeting of the board since the retirements of former Chairman Norm Hills and Chris Collings.

On May 15, the board had met and presumably reorganized, only to learn the day after that their meeting was ineffectual because two of the five members present had not been sworn in since the May 12 Town Election, leaving the board without a quorum.

In that meeting, Burr was voted chairman by a 3-2 margin, his support coming from Daniel and new member Ryan Burke. Daniel was then voted vice chairman, but that didn't count either.

On Monday, the same results took hold with a 5-2 vote but not before Marum once again nominated Nelson as chair, then vice-chair. Marum cited Nelson's status as a Fulbright Scholar, her degrees from the University of Wisconsin and Texas A&M and her experience as executive director of the Marion Historical Society and as an avid sailor.

Marum was again reaffirmed as clerk, and Henry who had not been present on May 15, was again voted the board's representative to the Southeastern Regional Planning and Economic Development District (SRPEDD.) Daniel was again voted the board's representative to the Marion Community Preservation Committee.

Burke declined Nelson's motion that he represent the board to the CPC but assured Nelson he would shadow Daniel in the role to learn.

In other business, the board voted to fund Board Administrator Terri Santos' $35 expense for attending the Citizens Planner Training Collaborative.

The board made no recommendation on request by the Zoning Board of Appeals regarding the application of Terrence and Laura Hartford at 70 Water Street.

During public comment, 590 Delano Road resident Alex Race told the board he wants to do a land deal and has a lawyer and surveyor. Guey-Lee instructed him to file an Approval Not Required application for the next agenda.

Jones suggested that the board members have business cards.

Rochester's Conservation Commission

By Michael J. DeCicco

Rochester's Conservation Commission Tuesday effectively slammed the brakes on a proposal to place a multitown conservation restriction on 241 acres of aquifer land from Acushnet to Mattapoisett that includes 13 acres at Red Brick Farms on the east side of Long Plain Road and the north side of Wolf Island Road.

The deal breaker was Buzzards Bay Coalition spokesperson Allen Decker's explanation that the regional CR agreement will give Mattapoisett the water rights to the Rochester parcel under a coownership agreement with the Mattapoisett River Valley Water District. The regional CR, in fact, already has language that Mattapoisett alone will have the right to install up to four new wells on the property, he said.

Commission members complained that Rochester has lost the right to use its own water resources too many times over the decades, such as a century ago to the New Bedford Water Department. They were united in their refusal to sign the Red Brick Farms CR without more information, especially as to whether the CR can be rewritten to give Rochester rights to some of that water.

"Any chance this can be rewritten to get us a well?" commission member Ben Bailey asked.

"I don't think we can rewrite the restriction at this point," Decker responded.

Commission Chairman Christopher Gerrior told Decker the panel will not be able to sign the CR without more information from other boards as to its rights in this instance and more information from Decker himself.

Decker agreed to attend the commission's next meeting on June 20 and asked for direction on what the commission needs from him. "If this derails a $6,000,000 conservation project, that will be a problem," he said. "What can I do to get this group what it needs?"

"You can explore a way to include Rochester getting some of this water going to Mattapoisett," Bailey said bluntly. "There is a disappointment across this town that Rochester has no right to its water, and that will continue to be the case."

Prior to this issue, the commission approved a plan to construct a 119x50-foot steel farm building within 70 feet of a shoreline at 570 New Bedford Road. In response to a Request for Determination of Applicability, the board decided the project does not need wetland-regulations restrictions.

The commission also approved a plan to construct a new residence at 485 Neck Road with work to include grading for a portion of the patio and landscaping within a wetlands buffer zone with a standard Order of Conditions.

Gerrior announced that William Clapp has resigned from the Conservation Commission. Gerrior said Clapp has moved from the area, and the board is now actively seeking new commission members.

He also announced that the owner of 89 Box Turtle Drive was unable to appear or send his attorney to the June 6 meeting but has promised to appear at the board's next meeting. The board voted against resuming fining him until after that meeting.

In the year-long dispute over the clearing of land there too close to wetlands without a permit at 89 Box Turtle Drive, the board had approved giving owner Doug Rose until June 6 to provide an acceptable restoration plan without being fined for his noncompliance.

The Conservation Commission set its next meeting for Tuesday, June 20, starting at 7:00 pm at Town Hall, 1 Constitution Way.

Boat-Lift System Approved

Marion Conservation Commission

By Mick Colageo

The Marion Conservation Commission voted during its May 24 public meeting to issue 122 Register Road LLC an Order of Conditions for a proposed boat-lift system and access walkway.

During the public hearing, project representative Dave Davignon of Schneider, Davignon & Leone, Inc. explained that the activity is to be done by a crane set on a barge and occur on land under ocean and land containing shellfish, requiring Chapter 91 Waterways licensing and the approval of the Army Corps of Engineers, which issued the original

OBITUARIES

Paul I. Levine, 89, of Mattapoisett died May 26, 2023 peacefully at Nemasket Healthcare Center.

He was the husband of Catherine J. "Kay" (Cousey) Levine.

Born in Fitchburg, MA. He was the son of the late Irving and Johanna (Kukku-la) Levine, he was raised in Waterbury, CT before moving to Dorchester, then Needham, and finally his beloved Mattapoisett in 1969.

He was a graduate of Sacred Heart High School in Waterbury Connecticut and earned a B.S. in Marketing at the University of Connecticut where he was a Phi Sigma Kappa member.

Mr. Levine was an active communicant of St. Anthony's Church in Mattapoisett. He served as a Eucharistic Minister and was very active with St. Vincent De Paul. In addition, he was a Student Mentor at the Nativity Preparatory School. He also received the Marian Medal from the Diocese of Fall River for his many years of service to his parish.

He was the proprietor of Fashion Corner Uniforms in Dartmouth for many years. Prior to that, he was a buyer for Filene's Department Store and later a Vice President of Sales at Whittenton Garment in Taunton.

He served in the U.S. Army and was stationed in Brooklyn, NY and Indianapolis, IN.

Mr. Levine enjoyed travel and formed the Mattapoisett Touring Company with his wife Kay, which allowed them to travel the world together with a wonderful group of friends.

Mr. Levine was a long-time member of the Mattapoisett Lions Club, holding numerous leadership roles and was involved in the Lion's Harbor Days and Road Race events. He was also the recipient of the Melvin Jones Award for his years of service to Lions Club.

He was a coach for Mattapoisett Youth basketball and Little League baseball.

He was also a Boston, then New England Patriots season ticket holder for over 30 years.

Survivors include his wife; 2 sons, Paul Levine and his wife Charlotte of Los Angeles and Brian Levine of Mattapoisett; a daughter, Karen Jermstad and her husband David of Washington; 8 grandchildren, Brittany Levine, Tyler Levine, Paul R. Levine, Colin Levine, Jessica Livolsi, Katie Livolsi, Kevin Levine and Patrick Levine; and a great-granddaughter, Olivia Last.

His Funeral will be held on Wednesday, June 7th at 9 am from the Saunders-Dwyer Mattapoisett Home for Funerals, 50 County Rd. (Rt. 6), Mattapoisett, followed by his Funeral Mass at St. Anthony's Church at 10 am. Burial will follow in St. Anthony's Cemetery. Visiting hours were held on Tuesday, June 6th. For directions and guestbook, visit www.saundersdwyer.com.

Gerald S. Clancy, Sr., 90, of Marion, MA, died June 1, 2023 at home after a period of declining health.

Born in Brockton, MA, son of the late Joseph and Mary (Anzakowski) Clancy, he graduated from Whitman-Hanson public schools and was an accomplished athlete playing varsity and American Legion baseball. Gerry was a longtime resident of East Bridgewater, MA. He earned an associate degree in electrical engineering with an FCC First Class license in radio communications, and completed several in-house training programs from Westinghouse, Northrop and Motorola.

Gerry had more than 20 years of experience in the mobile communications industry. He was the New England Senior Project Manager at Motorola Communications and Electronics for 17 years, responsible for antenna site engineering and development for a 48-site network across 8 states. He was recognized for his accomplishments as Motorola's Field Engineer of the Year. After retiring from Motorola, he started Pisces Corp., a consulting company specializing in cell tower design, operation and network management, which he ran until his retirement in 2008. While working and raising his family, he designed and built every home he lived in, acting as general contractor, mason and electrician, and passed many of these invaluable skills on to his seven children. He was especially proud of the house he built in Marion, MA, where he moved in 1987 from East Bridgewater.

Throughout his life, he was active in his church and local community, volunteering for Saint John's (East Bridgewater) and Saint Rita's (Marion) parishes, and building the refreshment stand for the East Bridgewater HS booster club. He enjoyed golf, traveling and tinkering and the many activities around Marion. He was an accomplished draftsman and enjoyed drawing and painting, working in pen and ink and watercolor. He will be remembered for his incredible work ethic and determination, his generosity, and his devotion to family.

Gerry was predeceased by his brother and sister-in-law, Joseph and Helen. He was also predeceased by his wife of 68 years, June Rose, who died 12 hours before on the same day.

Gerry is survived by five sons Gerald, Jr. (Elizabeth), Kevin, William, Thomas (Nanci) and Michael (Susan); two daughters Patricia Kashgagian (Greg) and Susan Dougherty (Dan); 14 grandchildren; and many great-grandchildren. He also leaves behind many nieces, nephews, cousins and friends who will cherish his memory.

A Funeral Mass for June and Gerry will be held Friday, June 9th at 11 am at St. Rita's Church in Marion, with the public invited to meet directly at Church. Interment will follow in Evergreen Cemetery, Marion. Calling hours will be Thursday, June 8th from 4-7 pm at the Saunders-Dwyer Mattapoisett Home for Funerals, 50 County Rd., Mattapoisett. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to LymeDisease.org. For directions and guestbook, visit www.saundersdwyer.com.

June Rose (Delaney) Clancy, 89, of Marion, MA, died unexpectedly at Tobey Hospital on June 1, 2023.

Born in Brockton, MA, daughter of the late William and Rosanna Delaney, she graduated from Brockton public schools. She also earned a certificate in business and then married Gerald S. Clancy, Sr. They were married for 68 years before both died on the same day, within 12 hours of one another: June at Tobey Hospital and Gerry at home after a period of declining health. Together they raised seven children, living in East Bridgewater and then Marion, MA.

Throughout her life, June was involved in her children and grandchildren's sports and activities, an active participant in her church and community, and beloved by countless friends and relatives. She was the long-time Secretary for Camp Rockne, a camp for girls in Dublin, NH. In Marion she volunteered at the Sippican Healthcare Center and St. Rita's Church, where she established the weekly Eucharistic ministry program to offer communion to Catholic residents at the Healthcare Center. She and her husband, Gerry, also designed, planted and maintained the gardens at St. Rita's for many years. In 2006, June received the Marian Medal diocesan award from the Bishop of Fall River in recognition of her dedicated service and on-going devotion to St. Rita's Parish.

June was a passionate and accomplished gardener and took great delight in her gardens at home and in sharing cuttings with friends and relatives. She also enjoyed golf, traveling and the many activities around Marion including, in her later years, the Council on Aging.

June is survived by five sons Gerald, Jr. (Elizabeth), Kevin, William, Thomas (Nanci) and Michael (Susan); two daughters Patricia Kashgagian (Greg) and Susan Dougherty (Dan); 14 grandchildren; and many great-grandchildren. She also leaves behind many nieces, nephews, cousins and friends who will cherish her memory.

A Funeral Mass for June and Gerry will be held Friday, June 9th at 11 am at St. Rita's Church in Marion, with the public invited to meet directly at Church. Interment will follow in Evergreen Cemetery, Marion. Calling hours will be Thursday, June 8th from 4-7 pm at the Saunders-Dwyer Mattapoisett Home for Funerals, 50 County Rd., Mattapoisett. Kimberly I. Meyer-Pelletier, 68 of Fairhaven, MA died peacefully on Friday, June 2, 2023 after a long and courageous battle with cancer. She was the loving wife of Richard C. Pelletier for 39 years.

Born in Hinesville, GA daughter of the late Arthur H. and Dorothy G. (Laval-lee) Meyer, she grew up in a close-knit family in Wrentham, MA and spent her summer months in Mattapoisett enjoying all the beauty that Buzzards Bay had to offer. Once married she moved to Coventry, CT where she started a family and grew her own private practice as a Physical Therapist. Eventually she planted roots in Fairhaven, MA where she continued her life's work as a PT, healing those who were burdened with grief, trauma, and physical and emotional pain through mind, body, and soul connection.

Kim, had a zest for life and a taste for adventure. She spent many winters skiing in snowy Vermont. She traveled the world whenever the opportunity beckoned. More recently, she took up pickleball which complimented her competitive and fun-loving nature. She was a warm, caring, and compassionate person who was always eager to help others in their time of need.

In addition to the obituary, here are some heartfelt memories of Kimberly Meyer-Pelletier:

- Kim was Miss Wrentham 1973 during the tricentennial celebrations.
- Kim had a green thumb and nurturing her garden brought her great joy.
- Kim cherished the holidays. She loved spending time with her family, cooking delicious meals, and giving thanks for all the blessings in her life.
- There was nothing quite like being on her boat in Lake Tashmoo watching the sunset with her best friends and her family. She would quite often remark "How lucky are we"

Survivors include her husband Richard; her children Alexander Pelletier and his wife Celia Bellaloui, and Rachel Pelletier and her husband Alec Desmond; her siblings Dwight D. Meyer, and Jennifer Meyer-Feeney and her husband James; her sister-in-law Carole Meyer; and her nieces and nephews Jay, Megan, William, Michael, and Lauren.

She is predeceased by her brother, A. Gregory Meyer.

On Saturday June 17th a celebration of Kim's life will take place at the Saunders-Dwyer Mattapoisett Home for Funerals, 50 County Rd., Mattapoisett, MA. Family welcomes visitors from 1 to 5 pm. We invite you to wear colorful clothing to celebrate Kim's joy of life. In lieu of flowers, donations in memory of Kim can be made to the Buzzards Bay Coalition.

OBITUARIES

Carolyn S. Titcomb (Mattapoisett, MA).

The United States of America lost one of its oldest and most loved citizens this past Wednesday, May 24, 2023, at the age of 106 years, 46 days. In addition, Red Sox Nation and Patriot's Nation also lost one of their biggest fans. From April to October she could usually be found in front of her TV starting at 7:00pm cheering for her favorite Red Sox over the years: Pedro, Manny, Pedroia, Varitek, and of course Big Papi. In the fall, Carolyn could be found every Sunday cheering for her favorite players Gronkowski, Edelman, Welker, Vinatieri, and of course Tom Brady.

Carolyn passed away peacefully in the comfort of her own home with her beautiful granddaughter Julie at her side. She was born and raised in Bridgewater, MA. Right from the start of her life, she was a strong woman having survived a case of the Spanish Flu in 1918 at 18 months old. She graduated from Bridgewater High School in 1934, and was a proud member of the Girl's Basketball Team. At the time, girls were only allowed to play on half of the court, because in the 1930s it was against the rules for the girls to run up and down the full length of the basketball court! She married her husband (because he had a motorcycle) and proudly raised her 2 boys during World War II when there were no men around because they were all off fighting in the war. During her lifetime, she lived in several places including Keene, NH, Brockton, MA, Assonet, MA, and Mattapoisett, MA. Carolyn was a proud member of the Republican Party dating back to 1933. The 90 year grudge against Democrats began because her father was the Postmaster of Bridgewater, MA, and at the time this position was affiliated with the political party of the President. When President Franklin Delano Roosevelt (a Democrat) was sworn into office in March of that year, her father lost his job in the height of the Great Depression. She never let that one go.

Carolyn was predeceased by her husband Millard Titcomb, her sister Jane (Carroll) Welch and her husband Donald, and her nephews David and Kenny Welch. She is survived by her sons Peter Titcomb (Supply, NC) and William Titcomb (Marion, MA), her daughter-in-law Sharon Titcomb, her grandsons Peter Jr. (wife Tracey), Timothy (wife Nancy), Julie Whittemore (husband Richard), and Joshua (wife Cathey), and her 7 great-grandchildren: Peter Titcomb III, Anna, Lillian, Jack, Rory, Axel, and Ellis. She is also remembered by her nephew David's partner Margo Melnicove of Wayland, MA.

A special Thank you goes out to her much loved Helper of many years, Ann Rodriguez, and her Nurse, Emily Field, who were also a part of her chosen family. Carolyn was loved by so many friends and extended family at the Mattapoisett Housing Authority's Village Court on 1 Acushnet Road. In her final days, she made the decision to generously donate her body to Harvard Medical School (HMS), to see if they can unlock some of the secrets in her body that lead to such a long and fulfilling life. If they don't find anything on the inside, here are just a few secrets she displayed throughout her life on the outside. When you tell someone you love them, say "love you to pieces," when you thank someone you know, say "thanks a million," when it comes to cell phones and social media, she would say "it isn't the real world" so put it away, give lots of hugs, think happy thoughts, count your blessings, make your bed every morning, don't be afraid to hold a nice long grudge, have a bowl of Cheerios with a banana every morning for breakfast, and eat lots of Little Debbie Snack Cakes!

In honor of Carolyn's wishes, there will be no funeral services. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to Community Nurse Home Care/ Hospice of Fairhaven, MA.

Dorothea "Dot" (Scott) Tripp, 102, of Chiefland, Florida died September 26, 2022 peacefully in her son's home.

She was the loving wife of the late Clifford "Bud" Irving Tripp.

Born in Westerly, RI on April 30, 1920, devoted daughter of the late James Henry Scott and Mary Elizabeth Latham.

Dot lived in Mattapoisett from 1920 to 1980 and in Ruskin, FL from 1980 to 2022. Dot lived in Tehran, Iran for one year.

Dot loved the atmosphere of a small town community and was very active in it's everyday life. Dot did the census in the center of town for years and was instrumental in the revival of the Historical Society in the late 1950's until the time they moved to FL. She was also the Board of Registrars for years.

Dot leaves behind her two sons, Clifford D. Tripp and his wife Kathleen of FL, Dana J. Tripp and his wife Pamela of Marion; four grandchildren, Sarah Piehler, Cary A. LeBlanc, Jennifer Tripp and Dennis J. Tripp; six great grandchildren, Brendon and Shannon Piehler, Haleigh Veldhuis, Dana S. Tripp, Kara and Zach LeBlanc; and three great-great grandchildren, Aliah, Arianna and Azalea Piehler.

There will be a family gathering at Cushing Cemetery at a later date.

Davignon said he was still waiting on comment from the Harbormaster but had received comment from the state Department of Marine Fisheries and from Natural Heritage that he said suggested no impact by the project. He noted likewise regarding the Department of Environmental Protection.

Commissioner Shaun Walsh sought explanation as to the steel structure slightly off the existing grade. Davignon clarified that the structure will be rigged to rise up with the boat. He said the commissioners could view an example of the same on Water Street.

Mark Manganello of LEC Environmental was engaged by the property owner, and Davignon said Manganello expects to visit the site in mid-June, considered an optimum time to evaluate the saltmarsh area and determine what it needs in the way of mitigation efforts.

Chairman Jeff Doubrava and Walsh considered the Division of Marine Fisheries comments to be "boiler plate" in nature.

Noting that the original application generated much in a way of public comment, Doubrava sought public comment and got none. With that, the commission voted to close the public hearing.

The Sippican Lands Trust received a Negative Determination of Applicability for approximately 100 feet of split-rail fence with 10 to 12 posts to be installed on a crushed-stone path that leads down to the wood boardwalk.

Responding to comments that wheelchair users could lose control on the boardwalk, Cathy Stone of the SLT explained the project. Stone asks if the SLT could add a trench, citing the gully caused by heavy rains. "We're having to fix it a lot and don't want it to disappear, have a huge river going down there," said Stone.

Member Emil Assing suggested a design and proposal in writing in order to add a trench to the project. Doubrava agreed with Assing, qualifying it doesn't have to come from an engineer. Conservation Agent Doug Guey-Lee said a trench could be contextualized in the application under management plans.

Fernandes Pacheco was issued a Negative Determination of Applicability to replace eight to 12 trees and bring an area back to acceptable visual condition at 1 Sparrow Lane. The conditions were blamed on what Doubrava characterized as "a hack job" by a utility company.

"Very bad, beyond any kind of possibility of our imagination that it would come out like this, but it was just horrific, actually," said Pacheco.

Commissioners Assing, Walsh and Matt Schultz visited the site. Walsh said every tree growing out there was cut down, and he would file the same application with the commission.

Pacheco said that the pulling of stumps will require the addition of topsoil, but there is no intention to change the grade of the area. He wants to extend his fence one more panel (adding one post.)

In his Conservation Agent's Report, Guey-Lee updated the commission on three matters, neighbor's inquiry as to a shed's placement at 27 Fieldstone relative to the commission's negative determination of applicability, the need for at least an RDA filing to replace a missing step to a concrete staircase at 90 Point Road, and what the Harbormaster reported as evidence that tree limbs have been thrown down into the water from 196 Point Road that are causing a potential navigational hazard.

The commission issued a three-year extension of a permit for Barrett and Virginia Levenson regarding their ongoing work at 174 Cross Neck Road.

The commission also voted to approve the issuance of certificates of compliance to Charles Coolidge for work

Doubrava presided over the meeting remotely via Zoom because he had COVID-19 the prior week and, while allowed by protocol to go out in public while wearing a facemask, he did not think he could lead the meeting while wearing a mask.

The next meeting of the Marion Conservation Commission is scheduled for Wednesday, June 14, at 7:00 pm.

Bulldogs Earn Spot in Quarterfinal

Tournament Roundup

By Mick Colageo

The 11th-seeded Old Rochester Regional girls' tennis team (13-3) doubled down on its 4-1 victory over Ashland with a 3-2 win on Monday at No. 6 Medfield, earning a spot in the MIAA Division 3 state quarterfinals against the winner of Tuesday's match between second-seeded and undefeated Dover-Sherborn and Swampscott. Time and location of the quarterfinal match was not determined at press time.

The ORR boys' tennis team, seeded ninth in Division 3, defeated East Longmeadow 4-1 but lost 3-2 in Monday's Round of 16 at Cape Cod Academy.

The 12th-seeded ORR girls lacrosse team (13-6) defeated Dighton-Rehoboth, 9-5, on Monday and was right back at it Tuesday night in the Division 3 Round of 16 against fifth-seeded Pentucket Regional. Both ORR and Old Colony boys' lacrosse teams were in action Tuesday.

Both the ORR and Old Colony boys' lacrosse teams were in tournament action on Tuesday night.

The Old Colony baseball team (10-10) beat West Boylston, 11-2, to open the Division 5 tournament but lost 15-2 on Monday to second-seeded Bourne.

ORR sophomore Gavin Martin finished fourth overall in the Division 5 Outdoor Pentathlon held May 25-27 at Norwell High School, winning the Shot Put at 11.35 meters, taking second in the Long Jump (5.85 meters) and third in the High Jump (1.7 meters) and the 110 Hurdles (19.42 seconds.)

Sam Balsis factored in the same events outside of the Pentathlon competition, winning the 400 meters in 57.68 seconds, taking second in the high jump (6 feet, 2 inches), third in the 110 Meter Hurdles (15.28) and seventh in the

MOVIE REVIEW

Toothless

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Renfield. Starring Nicolas Cage and Nicholas Hoult. Directed by Chris McKay. Running time: 93 minutes. MPAA rating: R. Now available on physical home media; streams on Peacock starting June 9.

Of the things we might expect from a Dracula movie, particularly one starring Nicolas Cage as the legendary bloodsucker, the top of that list would probably not be a crime comedy. But that's what Renfield shapes up as. There are a few decent ideas in Renfield, but they're left to die of starvation while the plot gives us scene after scene in which gangsters have shootouts with cops or are bloodily dispatched by Robert Montague Renfield (Nicholas Hoult), the immortal familiar of Count Dracula. Renfield is an unassuming-looking British dude until he eats bugs, at which point he turns into Super Renfield and the movie turns into super crap.

After about a century of doing Dracula's dark bidding, Renfield has sort of a mid-unlife crisis; he feels he's in a codependent relationship with the vampire. So he attends a support group of such people, and he thinks that by feeding some of his fellow sufferers' toxic S.O.s to Dracula he can do good and do bad at the same time. But one of those toxic boyfriends turns out to be mixed up in crime, and Renfield's plan to kidnap him is foiled by a hit man from the Lobo crime family. This, not very long into an 87-minute movie less six minutes of end credits, is where the movie goes badly wrong and never recovers. I'm never unhappy to see Awkwafina, and she's fine here — none of the cast is the problem, really — but she's playing Cop Trope #7189, the cop's cop daughter still sore about his murder by the Lobos, with a side order of tension with her FBI sister. All of this is awful and takes valuable time away from Renfield and Dracula.

A whole dark-comic movie could have been made about the relationship between the familiar and his master, but that's not what Renfield is truly about. Cops and criminals are brought into it to ensure bang-bang and fight scenes and lots and lots of gore.

(Between this and Evil Dead Rise, I'm just gonna say the MPAA doesn't even care about blood any more. Have as much of it as you want in your movie, you'll still get an R rating and be able to get a wide theatrical release.) But the idea of Renfield helping his codependent fellows by sending their tormentors to Dracula is lost, and Dracula himself barely makes any sense. Cage is game to give a mint-condition camp performance, but the material just gives him Dracula's resentment of Renfield to work with. That isn't enough to make him interesting, or even plausible as a powerful force in Renfield's life. So Dracula wanders into the sphere of the Lobo family, and a movie that died half an hour ago now lets its corpse fall into a vat of excrement.

Speaking of powerful forces, Shohreh Aghdashloo turns up as the matriarch of the Lobo crime clan. The role and dialogue are insults to her, but she still rallies and comes up with a menacing growl to top any vampire's. When her mob boss and Dracula meet, she purrs "Enchantée," and he kisses her hand, lingers over her scent (he seems to be sniffing the metaphorical blood on her hand), and says, as genuinely as only Nicolas Cage can say it, "The pleasure is all mine." That short exchange, showing what great actors can do without explosions of gore, contains the sum total of the Renfield I wanted, something that speaks of dark unslakable desire and ghastly alliances. It's what it should always have been about, instead of Renfield's redemption arc and Awkwafina honking insults at people. And a movie this incurious about what the vampire master/human slave dynamic might really be like suffers in every imaginable way in comparison with the fraught relationship between vampire Nandor and familiar Guillermo on FX's What We Do in the Shadows. Any vampire comedy now has that show to compete with. Renfield ain't got game.

1,500 (5:25.44). Braedon Christopher tied for ninth in the high jump at 5-10.

Murray Copps finished sixth in the 800 in 1:59.26, and Nolan Bushnell was ninth in 2:00.48. Hunter Bishop finished eighth in the javelin at 154-08 and 13th in the discus (117-09.)

ORR boys finished sixth as a team.

ORR girls (30th overall) got two eighth-place finishes from Chloe Hurley in the high jump (5 feet even) and Emily Abbott in the triple jump (33 feet, 6 inches.)

Bulldogs Bring Home Medals

Unified Track and Field State Meet

On May 24, six members of the Old Rochester Regional High School Unified Track Team traveled to Natick High School to compete in the Unified Track and Field State Finals.

Aveil Ward (shot put), Traeh Carrington (400 meters), Tom Grondin (javelin), Michael Hogan (javelin, 400 meters), Adam Murphy (400 meters) and Emilia Cantwell (shot put) represented Old Rochester Regional High School.

Competing against more than 58 high schools and private youth programs, the Bulldogs proved to be successful in their quest for victory.

Ward, a senior, won a gold medal in his flight of the shot-put competition. Sophomores Grondin (javelin) and Hogan (400 meters) each medaled in their respected competitions. All athletes were recognized for their competitive spirit and were awarded appropriately for their efforts.

An added touch to the excitement of the day occurred as the athletes were preparing to leave for their competition. The remaining students and staff lined each side of the entire first-floor corridor and cheered on these athletes with encouragement and support as they exited the building to their bus. This act of solidarity was remarkable and created memories that will last a lifetime for the competing members of the Unified Track Team.

Once again, the students and staff proved that at Old Rochester Regional High School, the word "family" is not just spoken but is expressed in sincere actions.

Academic Achievements

The following hometown residents were awarded degrees during Salve Regina University's 73rd commencement ceremony held in Newport, R.I. On view now as an outdoor art installation are two works created by UMass visual art students located at Dunseith, the Mattapoisett Land Trust park property at the corner of Route 6 and North Street. Both works are interactive in that The Bean has moveable parts that give viewers of all ages the opportunity to leave their own impact on tiny sculptures by relocating them across the surface of the sculpture. The Catalyst is bed-like, beckoning viewers to set aside cares and rest for a moment. Both pieces have been part of a work consisting of more large wooden sculptures that were displayed on campus for a year. The Catalyst was repainted to reflect the presence of Salty of Sea Horse, the cornerstone commercial art sculpture that has graced the space for decades. Participating students were Mya Ferreira, Devyn Carr, Bridget Farias, Goose Rodriguez, Lillian Rodriguez, Fallon Navarro, Brianna Hickey and Ellery Ekleberry. The 2023 Polaris Ranger UTV will assist first responders in finding and reaching people who are injured in wooded areas and on rural trails and locations where ambulances are unable to travel. The UTV will also be used to transport patients from those scenes.

The donation also included a medical skid unit to attach to the rear of the UTV, a Stokes litter (rescue basket) and other accessories needed to care for a patient. In total, the equipment donation was worth over $32,000.

Since receiving the equipment, Marion Fire/EMS members have received online and in-person training for operating the UTV.

this, we are incredibly grateful," Chief Jackvony said. "We've always had a great working relationship with the Marion EMT Association, and this is further evidence of that."

The Marion EMT Association was established in 1980 with funds bequeathed to the town's ambulance operations by a late Marion resident. The purpose of the charity was to help improve the prehospital care of Marion residents using funds that were not available through the town budget.

The 501(c)(3) nonprofit has purchased dozens of pieces of equipment in the past four decades to assist Marion ambulance crews in their on-scene treatment of patients. Donated equipment has included heart monitors, defibrillators, stretchers, radios and stair-chairs.

"An increasing number of calls involve off-road searches and rescues," Chief Jackvony said. "The UTV allows us to improve our response to those calls. Our goal always is to reach patients as quickly as possible, which is often critical in these situations, and the UTV means we'll be able to get to the scene and begin treating the patient sooner."

Anyone interested in donating to the Marion EMT Association may send their donation to: Marion EMT Association, c/o Joan C. Wing, 651 Point Road, Marion, MA 02738.

Our Principal Is On the Roof

"Mr. T.," the principal of Old Hammondtown Elementary School in Mattapoisett will be going on the roof of Center School at 3:30 pm on Friday, June 9 and won't come down until the school has collected more food donations than him.

Since May 22, students in grades Kindergarten through 3rd at Center School and 4th through 6th at Old Hammondtown Elementary School have been bringing in nonperishable food items to their schools' collection bins in hopes of getting Mr. Tavares off the roof quickly. Members of the public have also been encouraged to drop off food items at the Mattapoisett Police Department.

At this time, food insecurity has impacted every community, and these donations will help fill the shelves at Damien's Place Food Pantry in Wareham, Church of the Good Shepherd in Wareham pantry and the Marion Council on Aging Food Pantry.

Residents are encouraged to continue to donate on behalf of Mattapoisett's elementary school students by dropping donations off at the Mattapoisett Police Department through Friday, June 9. If it rains, Mr. T won't be getting onto the roof until Thursday, June 15.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) The often skeptical Aries might find that an answer to a question is hard to believe. But check it out before you chuck it out. You might well be surprised at what you could learn.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your resolute determination to stick by a position might make some people uncomfortable. But if you're proved right (as I expect you to be), a lot of changes will tilt in your favor.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You might feel conflicted between what you want to do and what you should do. Best advice: Honor your obligations first. Then go ahead and enjoy your well-earned rewards.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) That financial matter still needs to be sorted out before you can consider any major monetary moves.

Pressures ease midweek, with news about a potential career change.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A workplace problem threatens to derail your well-planned project. But your quick mind should lead you to a solution and get you back on track without too much delay.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) An opportunity opens up but could quickly close down if you allow pessimism to override enthusiasm. A trusted friend can offer the encouragement you need.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22)

You've come through a difficult period of helping others deal with their problems. Now you can concentrate on putting your energy to work on your own projects.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Forget about who's to blame and, instead, make the first move toward patching up a misunderstanding before it creates a rift that you'll never be able to cross.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Good news for the travel-loving Sagittarian who enjoys galloping off to new places: That trip you put off will soon be back on your schedule.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A mood change could make the gregarious Goat seek the company of just a few friends. But you charge back into the crowd for weekend fun and games.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A decision you made in good faith could come under fire. Best advice: Open your mind to other possibilities by listening to your challenger's point of view.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You can avoid being swamped by all those tasks dangling from your line this week by tackling them one-by-one, according to priority. The weekend brings good news.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a fine business sense and a love of the arts. You enjoy living life to its fullest.

Children's Memorial Garden

The Children's Memorial Garden in front of Sippican School will be rededicated in an all-school ceremony on June 14 at 9:15 am. The student body will have their tradition Flag Day Ceremony around the Flag Pole at 9 am, then regroup around the Children's Memorial Garden. The Marion community is most welcome to participate.

Marylou Hobson was the principal of Sippican School from 1990 to 2004. On her retirement, she requested the construction of a Memorial Garden to honor four Sippican children who passed during her tenure. Marques Silva & Andrew Rego both died in tragic accidents, and Alexis Wisner & Cody Johnson both succumbed to fatal diseases. Marylou loved the idea of building the garden around the huge spruce on the front lawn of the school, and the talented team of Susannah Davis (who did the design work) & Steve Gonsalves (who did the planting work) made it a reality. Last year, Steve Gonsalves noticed indication of disease & stress in the spectacular spruce. Specialist inspection discovered the tree had been hit by lightning, was hollow and succumbing to disease. Taking it down was a difficult but necessary decision. The silver lining: the Gonsalves/Davis team joined by Margie Baldwin has reinvented the garden to a new chapter, and the Pythagorean Lodge brotherhood has stepped in to do the work. The stump is a beautiful centerpiece to the stone memorial benches. New and old specimen trees & shrubs surround the sitting area making a nest to cradle our memories.

The Children's Memorial Garden reminds us of the most important elements of our community. We remember these four children we have lost, and we hold their families dear. Please join in the entire community's rededication on June 14.

in part to alleviate overcrowding in many city cemeteries caused by both increased immigration and deaths from the Civil War. The first rural cemetery in Massachusetts was the Mount Auburn Cemetery created in Cambridge in 1831. There are "rural" cemeteries in Fairhaven and New Bedford, but not in Rochester, in part because most of our cemeteries predated the movement. Rural cemeteries were park-like, and families would go on outings to them. They would stroll the grassy pathways and even stop to picnic. The creation of these cemeteries stopped when public parks began to be funded, following Frederick Law Olmstead's push to design public open spaces...

But enough of that. Our Rochester cemeteries are solemn and interesting spaces that pay tribute to those buried there, but also tell the history of families and of our town. The cemetery at Rochester Center is rich with these stories and on our tour on June 11 at 1:00, we will be introducing you to some of them.

Unfortunately, we won't be able to get to all the notable people buried here, so I thought I'd share the story of Donald and Eunice Jenkins. Both grew up in Rochester. Eunice's father was the head gardener at the Stone Estate in Marion. Eunice went to Kinyon Campbell after high school and then worked in the payroll department at Morse Cutting tools.

Donald was a farmer and drove buses for Mr. Arenberger. Then he went on to drive trucks. He was in England and France in the Army Air Corps. Donald and Eunice got married in 1953 when she was 19. Donald was a Tree warden in Rochester for 30 yrs.

Later in life in 1976, both Donald and Eunice and two others moved the entire collection of almost 10,000 books and other materials from the old library in Town Hall to the new Plumb Memorial Library.

This is just one couple's story. Hopefully, you'll be able to join us on Sunday where we will do our best to share more Rochester stories.

Mattapoisett Land Trust Scholarships

Reagan Rock, daughter of Michael and Cynthia Rock was awarded the Blanche B. Perry Scholarship. Joseph E. Dupre IV, son of Joseph E. Dupre III and Elisa Dupre, was awarded the Priscilla Hathaway Art Scholarship.

2023 marks the first time that the Mattapoisett Land Trust has been able to offer an Art Scholarship to a Mattapoisett senior graduating by June 2023. The Art Scholarship was made possible by Brad Hathaway in honor and memory of his wife Priscilla, both founding members of the Mattapoisett Land Trust.

Joseph E. Dupre IV was chosen by MLT and Brad Hathaway for his excellence in art and his core values as a believer of "tranquility, growth and a protector of land and the seas" which match those of Priscilla. She was very interested in Native American Artifacts. She loved the outdoors, especially the woods, beaches and Buzzard Bay.

In Jed's pursuit of Communicative Design at Massachusetts College of Art and Design MASS ART; we all wish him much success.

Reagan Rock was chosen for her outstanding academic achievements, her leadership qualities and her excellence in extracurricular activities which prove greatness. She's pursuing a medical degree in order to become a "superhero" in the care of her patients. The Mattapoisett Land Trust believes that Boston College's ranking system will improve once Reagan arrives on campus.

ORRHS Students Participate In Memory Project

Superintendent Michael S. Nelson and Director of Guidance Lauren Millette are pleased to share that Old Rochester Regional High School students recently participated in the Memory Project.

The Memory Project is a youth arts organization that uses art created by children and for children to promote kindness and intercultural understanding around the world. Since 2004, the Memory Project has engaged 300,000 youth in 55 countries through school-based programs.

In the fall of 2022, ORRHS students received portrait photographs of Syrian school children aged 5-12. Using the photographs as reference, students worked diligently — under the leadership of art faculty members Joanne Mogilnicki and Kate Butler -- to create portrait paintings and drawings of the Syrian children.

Upon their completion, all the portrait art works were sent back to Syria to be presented to the children. Each finished portrait had a picture of the ORRHS student who created it glued to the back, along with a tracing of their hand. Within that traced outline, the ORRHS student included a handwritten message for the Syrian child. The tracing of the hand that made the portrait is meant to serve as a symbol of how art connects people and can be used as a vehicle of kindness, one portrait at a time.

A common sentiment among the ORRHS students was that being a part of the Memory Project was one of the most fulfilling and meaningful art projects they have ever experienced.

"Art is an excellent way for our students to express themselves and use their skills to create something that creates a meaningful connection with others," Director Millette said. "It was wonderful to see how much they enjoyed this project."

Added Superintendent Nelson, "The Memory Project is a great organization that inspires students to see the positive impact their creations can have. We are pleased to recognize the students for their hard work, and I would like to thank Joanne Mogilnicki and Kate Butler for working with our students on this project."

In an online message about the Memory Project, founder Ben Schumaker notes: "The Memory Project gets its name from its first intention, which was to provide handmade, heartfelt portraits as special memories to children in orphanages. Now our intention has expanded to touching the lives of youth around the world facing many types of challenges, while opening our hearts and minds so they can touch ours in return. Together we are using art to reach a distant destination: a kinder world in which all youth see themselves in one another regardless of differences in their appearance, culture, religion, or circumstances."

BookRemarks: from Plumb Library

Greetings from Plumb Library. Welcome to BookRemarks, our new monthly feature focusing on all things library related.

Allow me to introduce you to our Library of Things. What on Earth is that, you may be wondering? Well, it's basically a collection that lives in the Library that is comprised of items that are not "traditional" Library stuff. From cake pans to podcast stations to snap circuits to lawn games, more and more Libraries are offering "things" to their patrons. This is a great way to try-it-before-you-buy-it, experiment with a new hobby, or supplement a weekend activity. The Plumb Library's Things include a telescope, a ukulele, an energy meter, a yarn winder and snowshoes for kids and adults, WiFi hotspots and MOBY backpacks. All of these items can be checked out with your library card, except for the yarn winder which is currently only for in-library use. Anything from the Library of Things circulates for one week and can be reserved by contacting the Library, either by phone or email. Wouldn't it be great fun to learn to strum a tune on the ukulele in time for your next BBQ? Maybe you want to catch a glimpse of the International Space Station the next time it flies over. Perhaps you're concerned about increased energy costs and you'd like to measure the efficiency of your appliances with the Kill-a-Watt. And with summer coming up, it's a great time to grab a MOBY pack and explore the outdoors with your kids or grandkids. Do you have suggestions or wish list items you'd like to see added to our Library of Things? Let us know. As always, your Library Staff, Kristen, Jen, Lisa and Bridget are here to help you find what you need. Feel free to call (508-763-8600) or email us (info@plumblibrary.com) with any questions. Better yet, come by and say hello.

UCT to Honor Korean War Veteran

Upper Cape Tech is delighted to announce a surprise ceremony that will be held on campus to recognize and honor George Nixon, a distinguished Korean War Veteran. The ceremony will take place on Flag Day, Wednesday, June 14, at 10:00 am, the day before Mr. Nixon's 90th birthday. This effort is being done in collaboration with Abington's Veterans' Agent, Mr. Nixon's family and Upper Cape Tech.

Mr. Nixon served our nation with valor and dedication during the Korean War, demonstrating unwavering courage and selflessness in the face of adversity. Unfortunately, to this day, Mr. Nixon has not received any of the medals he earned during his service.

Upper Cape Tech believes in instilling a deep appreciation for the sacrifices made by our brave veterans, and this ceremony aims to express our profound gratitude for their service.

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer on line and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on I Found the Aardvark

In the June 1, 2023 edition the Aardvark was on page 47
